Places in Beijing

Chaoyang Park is the biggest and most beautiful park in Beijing. Have you ever been to a park where you can go on rides, rent a bike, dash around a running track, use an outdoor swimming pool in summer, and ski in the winter!?

The Summer Palace is the largest imperial palace in China. It covers almost 3 square kilometres!

PLACES IN AND AROUND BEIJING

TEMPLE OF HEAVEN

The Temple of Heaven is a huge highlight to visit in Beijing. Come dive in to the history of the praying altar, where emperors go each year to pray for good harvest and the mysterious Whispering Wall, a huge part in many Chinese legends.

THE FORBIDDEN CITY

The Forbidden City, also a major highlight in China, conveniently located next to the Pearl market, so you can visit the landmark and go shopping after! Come explore the strange eeriness of the past emperors' ghosts, and explore the palaces that they lived in.

THE OLD SUMMER PALACE!!

WELCOME VISITORS TO THE FORBIDDEN CITY! THE THING THAT MADE THE FORBIDDEN CITY DEFENSIVE WAS THAT THE HOUSES WERE PACKED AND LOOKED THE SAME. THE CAPITAL CITY OF ANCIENT CHINA AND THE HOME TO THE PAST EMPERORS OF IMPERIAL CHINA. IT IS ONE OF THE MOST HISTORICAL PLACES TO VISIT IN BEIJING.

THE OLD SUMMER PALACE MAY LOOK LIKE A PILE OF PEBBLES THAT ARE CLEAN TODAY, BUT IF YOU HAVE TIME YOU SHOULD DEFINITELY GO VISIT IT. IT HAD AN EXTENSIVE PALACE AND GARDEN COMPOUND BUT MET ITS END IN 1860 WHEN IT WAS BURNED DOWN BY THE ANGLO-FRENCH ARMIES IN THE SECOND OPIUM WAR
